

Mongolia is referred to as “Land of the Blue Sky” because it has over 260 sunny days a year.

Welcome to MONGOLIA

Mongolia has a total area of 603, 909 square miles (1,564,116 km<sup>2</sup>).
It is slightly smaller than Alaska.

Mongolians are the people with rich and proud history, tradition, culture and also with a combination of breathtaking nature.

Thirty-six percent of the Mongolian population is under age 18.

The world's most sparsely populated sovereign country, with only 4.3 people per square mile.

The Olympiad is being organized under the auspices of the President of Mongolia within the initiative of "Visit Mongolia" year.

About 300 teachers and students from 27 countries will compete in the 23rd APhO , which will be held in Ulaanbaatar on May 21-29, 2023.

The capital of Mongolia is Ulaanbaatar, which means "red hero". Due to its high elevation, high latitude, landlocked location, and the effects of the Siberian anticyclone, Ulaanbaatar is the coldest capital city in the World, where the average temperature is -1 degree Celsius.
